A Note from your Director

Whew ! I am finally starting to feel settled after moving, learning all I can about the Española Valley Fiber Arts Center, spending some serious time talking to people and thinking about what my job is and what I could bring to this important Fiber Arts Center. I have met many of you and no I don't remember all of your names yet, but it did not take long for me to fall madly in love with EVFAC and all it does for the fiber community. There is a spirit and an energy here that is unmatched in any 'for profit' fiber store. I have heard stories about how many of you nursed this center from its earliest days, what you learned in classes, how you all feel you are an integral part of what built EVFAC into the thriving fiber arts community that it has become. Many of you came to the rescue as we struggled to maintain the Center, and I want to let you know that all of that support, the donations, the prayers, the volunteering... have let everyone here know that failure is not an option, and thanks to your assistance, no longer a threat. We are looking forward, planning for growth and taking on new initiatives to regain our strong foundation. The board and especially the staff have taken up the challenge. You can already see the brighter and more fully stocked showroom, the meticulous attention to customer service making our customers feel more at home here, and our expanding class offerings. And yes, starting in January we will be open on Sundays from 12 noon to 4:00 pm with something for everyone in terms of circles and helpful assistance with all your fiber needs. Have a very Happy Holiday and see you soon!

Teacher Feature

A new section highlighting the talented artists teaching at EVFAC.

Describe your art form in one sentence: I am a tapestry weaver creating contemporary abstract work using hand-dyed wool and silk.

cornelia.theimer.gardella

What do you love about teaching?

Teaching gives me the chance to share my passion for tapestry and design with others while allowing me to also learn from and interact with my students.

How do your classes help nourish fiber arts traditions in northern NM? With my classes I'm hoping to play a role in keeping these traditions alive while also expanding on them by combining traditional techniques with modern approaches to design.

What do you love about EVFAC?

I came to New Mexico in January 2005 and one month later I became an EVFAC member. For the past 7 years, the center has been a constant companion in my artistic development. I have taken numerous classes at EVFAC, have used the dye studio, library and other resources and I still purchase most of my materials at the center. I am very honored to now be teaching classes here this winter and spring. See Conni's classes Color Theory in the Dye Studio and Color & Design for Tapestry Weavers.

What makes your work stand out in New Mexico? I am one of a few Pueblo fiber artists actively practicing ancient techniques using traditional materials.

What do you love about teaching? I feel a certain degree of urgency to teach parts of this tradition, an endangered art. I teach so that people can appreciate and learn about Pueblo culture and so that we as Pueblo people can continue our ancient traditions.

Louie García, Tiwa/Piro Pueblo Weaver

How do your classes help nourish fiber arts traditions in northern NM? My classes cover the ancient fiber history, culture, and traditions of the original inhabitants of New Mexico. These traditions have suffered a sharp decline for various reasons throughout history. Pueblo fiber art never experienced the revivals that Pueblo pottery and Jewelry have. My hope is that my classes will change that.

What do you love about EVFAC? What I love about EVFAC is that it supports and cultivates the fiber arts traditions specific to but not limited to New Mexico. EVFAC provides a venue for local fiber artist to showcase and teach about their area of expertise. They also offer a reliable source for hard to find tools and supplies at a reasonable price. No other place in the state offers this! See Louie's classes Intro to Pueblo Spinning and Pueblo Weaving.

New Interest Groups!

Bring Yarn Over, Knit Together with Bethe & Rachel
 Back by popular demand, join us for a relaxed knitting circle at your favorite fiber shop. Bethe, our Executive Director, is ready to help you solve your toughest problems, especially with beading and sock knitting. Rachel, our Education Coordinator, will be on hand to get you started on a new project or catch those dropped stitches on your projects in process. First Sundays, Feb. 5 and March 4.

Spinning Sunday with Glenna Dean
 A talented spinner and EVFAC Board member, Glenna will pick up where Jen left off with a fun and friendly spinning group. Meet other spinners, bring your questions and take home new tips and techniques.

Second Sundays, starting Feb. 12 and March 11.

Quilting in the Valley with Terry Meyer
 Stuck on a quilt? Come brainstorm with us! Join Terry, owner of Wild Wind Quilting, to learn new techniques, share experience and ideas, and meet a network of talented quilters.

Third Sundays, starting Feb. 19 and March 18.

Cricket Looms with Trish Spillman
 Bring your Cricket and enjoy the company of other weavers, led by EVFAC Founder and Board President Trish. Be inspired by Trish's enthusiasm and creativity while working on your projects under her careful eye.

Fourth Sundays, Jan. 22, Feb. 26 and March 25.

Sundays from 12:30 PM—3:30 PM.
 Drop by anytime—it's always free.

JANUARY

SOCKS ON ONE CIRCULAR NEEDLE with Beth Orrell—$65/80, materials extra.

If you are a knitter that is curious about socks but afraid to try them, (double pointed needles, skinny yarn, heels and toes), this class will set your socks free. Knitting with one circular needle, learn how to make socks that fit, learn the techniques of sock architecture, and even experiment with knit patterns on a small scale – try lace or cables! Making socks could well become an addiction so be careful! You'll take home the skills and a basic pattern with your socks. Beth is the Executive Director of EVFAC. She is a skilled knitter, spinner and primarily a weaver. She is noted as a gifted instructor in fiber arts, including beads in fiber, dyeing, felting and dressmaker sewing. Her weaving is primarily fabric for clothing (mostly hand painted silk) but she has studied overshot techniques and other antiquarian weave structures for household linens and table ware.

3 Saturdays: January 7, 14, & 21; 1:00 PM – 3:30 PM

BEGINNING RIO GRANDE WEAVING with Karen Martinez—$392

Learn to create elegant tapestries and rugs in a traditional weaving style from a master. Karen will cover the shuttle techniques of Wave, Double Shot, Beading, and Pick and Pick, plus how to draft and weave several Dovetail patterns. Students must register directly through Northern New Mexico College - call Cecilia Romero to register at 575-581-4117. Sign up soon - space will be limited! Karen Martinez is an award-winning seventh-generation master weaver who specializes in the Rio Grande Style, a centuries-old weaving tradition in northern New Mexico. EVFAC is very pleased to welcome back Karen as a teacher. Registration is through NNMC's Continuing Education, but classes will be held at EVFAC.

Mondays & Wednesdays, January 18th through March 7th; 8:30 AM – 2:30 PM

OFF-LOOM HANDWEAVING PLUS with Caroline Rackley – CANCELED

CHIMAYO-STYLE TAPESTRY with Lisa Trujillo—$176/220, materials extra.

Begun in the early years of the twentieth century, the Chimayo style is basically two stripes and a center design. This class is an opportunity to absorb the basics of this local New Mexican weaving tradition from a master practitioner. Students will learn how to combine angles and forms to create this unique form of woven expression. Students need to warp a Rio Grande loom prior to the class and will work with Clasgen's 4-ply. Students should have enough weaving experience to control edges well in weft-faced weave, but confident students with only limited weaving experience should also consider taking this class. Lisa's work has received numerous awards at Spanish Market and other venues and is part of collections around the world. She and her husband, Irvin, have dedicated much of their lives to weaving, building their successful business, Centinela Traditional Arts in Chimayo, and to the preservation of traditional fiber arts in New Mexico. Learn more about Lisa and see some of her weavings at www.chimayoweavers.com

Friday—Sunday, January 13-15; 9:30 AM – 4:30 PM

INTRO TO PUEBLO SPINNING with Louie García – $170/210, materials extra.

Explore ancient Pueblo fiber preparation and spinning techniques from the ancestral period to the present with expert Pueblo fiber artist Louie García. Louie will share textiles from his own collection to examine the spinning techniques used in the Pueblo weaving tradition. Learn the difference between "Z" and "S," worsted and woolen spinning as well as how to tell the difference between Pueblo, Hopi, & Navajo spindles or malacates. Students will also learn how to set the spin of their newly spun yarn. Participants will spin their own yarn on two types of Puebloan hand spindles using both raw wool and cotton as well as commercially spun worsted weight wool yarns. Don't miss Intro to Pueblo Weaving in February to learn how to weave with your hand spun yarn. Louie García is Tiwa and Piro of the southern Pueblos of Socorro del Sur and Ysleta del Sur from the El Paso, Texas area. He began learning the art of Pueblo weaving from his grandfather as a young boy and teaches with the hope that future generations of Pueblo people will carry on this ancient art. Another of Louie's goals is to share the basic techniques with a larger audience in an effort to inform, promote, and create appreciation for this ancient art. He uses a variety of materials, including his own home-grown cotton, wool, feathers, and natural plant fibers such as yucca as well as synthetic fibers for traditional Pueblo spinning, weaving, knitting, crochet and embroidery work.

Saturday – Sunday, January 21-22; 9:00 AM – 1:00 PM

BEGINNING WEAVING ON THE CRICKET RIGID HEDDLE LOOM with Trish Spillman - $96/120

Learn to weave on Schacht's sturdy, portable, and user-friendly Cricket rigid heddle loom. Trish will lead you through the basics of selecting yarns, dressing the loom, weaving a piece, and removing it, with tips for easy finishing techniques. If students weave between classes, they can make three small projects. Bring yarns you'd like to weave with or buy yarn at EVFAC. This class is for those new to weaving, or those who have done some weaving and want to explore the rigid heddle. Note: if you wish to purchase the loom, please make arrangements to acquire and assemble your loom before the first class meeting. Optional loom purchase for $145; limited number of looms available for class rental (please call to reserve).

Trish Spillman is EVFAC's founder and currently serves as board president. A native New Mexican, Trish began her career in New York City as a fashion merchandiser at Bloomingdale's and eventually found the love of her life in weaving and in teaching others to weave. Trish's signature weaving style makes use of yarns that mix color and texture with wild abandon and harmonious results.

Sat, Sun & Sat, January 21, 22 & 28; Saturdays 10:00 AM – 2:30 PM & Sunday 12:00 PM – 4:00 PM

BEGINNING CROCHET with Madeline Stark – $55/70

Crochet is a wonderful free-form way to be creative. Once you have learned the basics, you can make scarves, hats, and handbags. This class covers the basic crochet stitches: the foundation chain, slip stitch, and single & double crochet, plus pattern reading. You'll have time to get started on a small project, such as a scarf. Materials needed: one crochet hook (size G or H) and a skein of worsted weight yarn in a light color. Madeline has been crocheting and knitting since she was 10 years old. She participates in local fiber craft shows, guilds and demonstrations regularly. It brings her joy to pass along an ancient craft that joins women together and develops their creativity.

Saturday, January 28; 10:00 AM to 2:00 PM

THE FOUR-OUNCE FELTED HAT with Libby Casarez – $86/107, $45 materials fee.

This fun and easy class will take students through all the necessary steps to make a beautiful hand felted hat with only 4 oz of wool! Libby will start students with preparing the fiber, and move through felting, fulling, shrinking and finishing techniques. Students will take home a full set of instructions, tips, a resist pattern, and a felted hat with the hat form. Optional brim and sweatband finishing kits will be available for sale ($10). Libby Casarez is a fiber enthusiast who creates sewn bags, purses & hats, felted hats & scarves, and knitted & crocheted items for sale in New Mexico and Texas. She balances a focused attention to detail with artistic interpretation in her work, pushing her students to create their own experience from what they learn with her and others.

Sunday, January 29; 10:00 AM – 2:00 PM

FEBRUARY

LOVE TO WARP! with Lauren Storm - $200/250

Learn to warp back-to-front and all by yourself. Never fear a warp again! This three day class introduces tools and techniques to streamline your warping experience, providing ample time to design, prepare and warp two distinct projects using methods suitable to most fibers. Each student will have access to two looms, allowing advanced weavers more scope in project design. On days one & two, we will warp two looms with very different fibers using the same back to front technique. Day one's project is a wool rug warp for a 3 end block sampler. Day two's will be mixed fiber for a scarf or runner and introduce the warping paddle. On day three, we will cover helpful weaving habits and weave off those fearless warps. Bring any rug wool you have lying around and all that yarn you love but fear to warp! Lauren has been weaving for over 20 years, if you don't count weaving up the ladder-back chairs in the family dining room as a 5 year old. Until last year, Lauren saw fiber arts as a very personal pursuit, and then she met EVFAC. Now you can find her work in the gallery at EVFAC and at Weaving Southwest in Taos.

Friday—Sunday, February 3-5; 9:30 AM – 4:30 PM

SPINNING NOVELTY YARNS: Part I with Glenna Dean - $72/90, $15 materials fee.

We will focus on "novelty plying effects," including uneven plying of smooth and slubby yarns, uneven plying of different sized yarns, plying different colored yarns, plying variegated yarn with a solid color, wrapped yarns, Navajo 3-plying, 3 plies and beyond. Participants must be able to spin a coherent yarn and will use their own yarn spun in the class. Instructor will provide additional commercial or handspun yarns. Bring your wheel, lazy kate, extra bobbins, lunch, and a sense of humor and adventure. Finished yarns will be suitable for knitting or as weft for weaving. Don't miss Spinning Novelty Yarns Part II in March. Recently retired from the Northern Rio Grande National Heritage Area, Glenna Dean holds degrees in archaeology and botany and specializes in archaeobotany, the study of human interaction with plant material. She is a talented spinner, knitter and weaver, specializing in ancient techniques and having fun!

Sunday, February 5; 9:30 AM—3:30 PM

COLOR THEORY IN THE DYE STUDIO with Cornelia Theimer Gardella – $250/310, $15 materials fee.

This course is a combination of color theory and practical work in the dye studio. It is mainly aimed at tapestry weavers but is open to anybody interested in color and design. Hand-dyed yarns are an essential part of creating unique works of textile art. This workshop teaches the use of Lanaset/Sebraset dyes for wool and silk and explores color theory right in the dye pot. "What happens if I add some red to this blue? How can I create a smooth color gradation? What are the dyer's color wheels?" Students will become familiar with the color characteristics hue, chroma and value, explore basic color relationships and learn how to create their desired colors in the dye studio. In addition to experimenting with color, the class will teach the development of dye formulas and stress the importance of record keeping for easy reproduction of colors. When taken in combination with Color and Design for Tapestry Weavers in March, both classes together offer students the entire artistic process - from design to dye studio to loom. Cornelia Theimer Gardella weaves abstract tapestries using her own hand-dyed wool. Born, raised and educated in Germany, Cornelia came to New Mexico in 2005 to study traditional Fiber Arts at NNMC under Karen Martinez and contemporary tapestry with James Koehler. Together with James Koehler and Rebecca Mezoff, she was part of the international tapestry exhibition Interwoven Traditions: New Mexico and Bauhaus which was shown in Albuquerque and Erfurt, Germany in 2010. She teaches at Ghost Ranch and EVFAC. Be inspired at www.corneliatheimer.com

Friday – Sunday, February 10-12; 9:00 AM – 5:00 PM

INTRO TO PUEBLO WEAVING with Louie García - $170/210, materials extra.

Explore a brief history of the Pueblo textile tradition from the ancestral period to the present with expert Pueblo fiber artist Louie García. Louie will share textiles from his own collection to examine Pueblo weaving styles and designs. Participants will have the option to use their own hand spun to warp a frame loom to weave a traditional Pueblo hair tie using the warp-faced weaving technique. By the end of the workshop, students will have two completed projects and have a deeper understanding and appreciation for Pueblo textiles. Don't miss Intro to Pueblo Spinning in February to create yarns for Pueblo weaving. See Intro to Pueblo Spinning above for Teacher Bio.

Sunday – Monday, February 19-20; 9:00 AM – 1:00 PM

DISH TOWEL ROUND-ROBIN with Beth Orrell - $176/220, materials extra.

Using cotton, each student will warp a four or eight shaft loom for one structured towel pattern. Most of these warps are sett at 24 ends per inch. Students will get drafts for each pattern and will have the chance to weave a sample towel in each structure. Set ups will include at least hounds tooth, log cabin, deflected doubleweave, turned twill and overshot – more depending on number of students. For rug weavers this will be an introduction to structured cloth – for beginner weavers a chance to try something on eight shafts, or to collect exciting samples to use yourself or send as gifts. See Socks on One Circular Needle above for teacher bio.

Saturday-Sunday, February 25 & 26; 9:30 AM – 4:30 PM

MARCH

MARKET BASKET with Irene Smith - $68/85; $20 materials fee.

To Market, to Market. Any rectangular or square basket with a handle is known as a market basket. In this introductory level class, students will learn the techniques required and will complete (honest!) an 8" x 12" market basket. This is the pre-requisite for the Double Wine Basket class on March 31. Irene has been making baskets and fiber vessels for over 30 years, and has many years' experience in restoring Native American baskets for galleries and private collectors. Irene maintains Metier, her fiber studio and gallery in Dixon, NM. Since 1989 she has participated in the Dixon Studio Tour, exhibiting baskets and weaving. See more of Irene's work at www.metierweaving.com

Saturday, March 3; 10:00 AM - 4:00 PM.

SPINNING NOVELTY YARNS: Part II with Glenna Dean - $72/90, $15 materials fee.

We will focus on "constructed novelty yarns" for lack of a better title, mostly core-spinning, including snarl yarns, knot yarns, boucles, popcorn, feathered yarn, beaded yarn, and more. Participants must be able to spin a coherent yarn and will use their own yarn spun in the class. Instructor will provide additional commercial or handspun yarns. Bring your wheel, lazy kate, extra bobbins, lunch, and a sense of humor and adventure. Finished yarns will be suitable for knitting or as weft for weaving. Don't miss Novelty Yarns Part I on February 5. See Spinning Novelty Yarns: Part I above for teacher bio.

Sunday, March 4; 9:30 AM – 3:30 PM

BRIGHTER COLORS FROM NATURAL DYES with Beth Orrell - RESCHEDULED for Friday & Saturday, May 11 & 12; 9:30 AM – 4:30 PM

REP WEAVE PLACEMATS with Melodie Usher - $200/250

In this class you will learn all about rep weave; what it is, how to plan it and how to weave it. To put your new knowledge to use, each student will plan and warp a loom to create a set of Rep Weave placemats. A choice of patterns will be available for each student to individualize so that everyone will be able to create a project that is uniquely theirs. The project will be planned and the weaving will be started in class but the student will finish the project on their own having learned everything required to complete a successful rep weave project. Melodie Usher has been working toward becoming a weaver her entire life. Once the first warp was on her Grandmother-in-Law's loom, a four shaft Bexell Cranbrook loom, Melodie found her true passion in life. The loom allowed Melodie to use her love of color and design as well as her love of textiles. In September of 2010 Melodie received her Certificate of Excellence in Weaving, Level I from the Handweaver's Guild of America.

Friday – Sunday, March 16 – 18; 9:30 AM – 4:30 PM

CREATIVE KNITTING with Valentina Devine - $68/85

Shed your fears about fiber, texture and most of all ... gauge. Join Valentina in this incredible class to learn her secrets of creative knitting, the emphasis will be on knitting without a pattern. Discover how to combine linear shapes such as rectangles, squares and strips, along with linear areas of color. Combine all that with textures and embellishments and Viola! Explore simple shaping ideas for sweaters, coats and shawls in this hands-on class and you will be well on your way to completing a good portion of a garment in class. Don't miss Valentina's next class, Knitting Without Boundaries. Born in Moscow, Russia and growing up in Berlin, Germany, Valentina has always been knitting. Since the mid-eighties, she has been creating one-of-a-kind garments and wall hangings and teaching the technique called "Creative Knitting." She is a contributor to knitting publications, and shows her art-to-wear garments in many boutiques. Valentina cannot imagine life without knitting and she hopes to continue inspiring more knitters here and abroad.

Saturday, March 17; 10:00 AM – 4:00 PM

KNITTING WITHOUT BOUNDARIES with Valentina Devine - $68/85, materials extra.

In this class, the next step beyond Creative Knitting, Valentina guides you through free form knitting at its best, such as circles, swirls, scrambles and more. Discover how to create extraordinary and beautiful designs while using up all those wonderful yarns left over in your knitting basket.

Recommended: Start with Creative Knitting on 5

March 17. See Creative Knitting above for teacher bio.
Saturday, March 24; 10:00 AM – 4:00 PM

COLOR AND DESIGN FOR TAPESTRY WEAVERS with Cornelia Theimer Gardella – $360/450, $25 mat fee.

What is good design? Are there basic rules which can be followed (or broken)? How can tapestry ideas be translated into appealing designs which engage the viewer? This class focuses on putting basic design and color principles into practice on paper and at the loom. The practical design process will address questions of abstraction and simplification as tools for giving voice to the essential. Students will first work on a tapestry design for a small tapestry or a sampler for a larger tapestry which they will then weave during the class. Exercises will include the exploration of basic design elements such as lines and shapes, proportions and color relationships. The practical weaving part of the course will be tailored to each student's previous knowledge and all necessary tapestry techniques will be covered. Students are strongly encouraged to bring their own tapestry ideas and designs to class. When taken in combination with Color Theory in the Dye Studio in February both classes together offer students the entire artistic process - from design to dye studio to loom. See Color Theory in the Dye Studio above for teacher bio.

Wed-Sunday, March 28 – April 1; 9:00 AM – 5:00 PM

DOUBLE WINE BASKET with Irene Smith - $68/85; $20 materials fee.

In this unusual variation on the basic market basket, you'll create a lovely, functional basket that carries two bottles of wine in style, and with the basket's woven-in divider, safely. You'll have the option of weaving in a decorative color border or leaving your basket "au naturel." Pre-requisite: Must have made a Market Basket (See March 3). See Market Basket above for teacher bio.

Saturday, March 31; 10:00 AM - 4:00 PM.

ONGOING LEARNING at EVFAC
